BACK FOR ANOTHER YEAR

After several years and dozens of topics covered, we continue to refine what we are doing based on feedback from the group participants

INFORMATION FOR DENTISTS AT DIFFERENT LEVELS

We meet four times a year - once every three months - on a Wednesday evening. A key focus is on treatment planning of intermediate cases: not the heroic full arch constructions or the easy slam-dunk cases, but those cases that fall somewhere in the middle. Our goal is to make sure that there is something for both dentists early on in their learning curve, and those with moderate experience.

A BLEND OF CASE PRESENTATIONS AND IMPLANT TOPICS

Typically we have one or two implant topics presented at each meeting, taking up about half of the time, and the balance in reviewing treatment planning cases. Participants can bring their own cases, and we will have several from our office lined up as well. We may send out an article for suggested reading prior to the meeting, but the emphasis will be on practical clinical topics rather than research.
